About Asmisonic Industries

Asmisonic Industries was established in the year 2018. We are the manufacturer and supplier of ultrasonic gel, ECG gel and surgical masks that are used in clinics and hospitals. Our product range is known for its top quality. The products we make are manufactured from quality raw material. Based in Delhi, we leave no stone unturned to serve our customers.

Our gel is a conductive medium which helps in creating a bond between the skin and ECG or Ultrasonic Transducer. Then the waves are read by the machines to show the state of the heart or the baby. The surgical masks are also made taking in the consideration, the comfort and maximum protection from germs and bacteria. Our company is well known for the products and services which are used in almost all parts of the country. Why Choose Us? Choosing us is a great idea because our products are delivered right at your doorstep and are quite affordable. We perform a quality test to ensure that our products are of good quality and made with fine materials. Our workers also make sure that the products are made with the use of advanced technology to provide maximum support and better reading. Thus, buy our products at a very affordable rate and use them in your clinics and hospitals.
