About Desai Products

It takes us great pleasure in interacting with your good selves on what we call 'welcoming to the Alphonso Mango Treat'. So here's a welcome to you to the 'Alphonso Mango Treat'. The Alphonso mango produced in this region is widely known as WESTERN ALPHONSO MANGO. India as you know, shares the honor and distinction of being the largest producer of the 'Alphonso Mango', in other words the supreme of all Mangoes. This golden fruit is blessed with a unique shape, irresistible taste and a feeling that people only call 'divine'. The Pulp from this alphonso mango is enriched and blessed with GOLDEN ORANGE color, Characteristic AROMA, and the divine flavor. In the Indian sub continent, the Alphonso is only cultivated on the western coastal ranges in India, popularly known as the 'Konkan Belt' also called the 'California' of India. In the heart of Konkan, lies Pawas, Ratnagiri, Maharashtra a town that boasts of natural organic soil and the sea breeze, making it the most ideal environment for Alphonso Mango production. I will like proudly announce that The Mangoes Grown in My region will be called as ALPHONSO MANGO. We have received Geographical Indication for ALPHONSO MANGO. The Mangoes as well as Mango Products grown/produced in other part of India (Other than Ratnagiri, Sindhudurga, Thane, Palghar, Raigad Districts) will not allowed to call ALPHONOS MANGO or ALPHONOS MANGO PRODUCTS. This is exactly where our mango orchids lie, spread over 700 acres across the length and breadth of this town. Desai Bandhu Ambewale, a name synonymous with Mango and Mango cultivation for over 10 decades. Now, we preserve this natural heritage and are growing it with every passing day.
