Under the visionary guidance of our founder, Mr. Shobhit Sood, we have enlisted our company amongst the most genuine and ethical manufacturers who are driven to constantly delight the customers with more healthy alternatives in a cost effective manner that are specially crafted according to the latest demands of the international market.

With his support, we have formed our in house manufacturing facility in Ghaziabad (Uttar Pradesh, India) that is built with innovative technology and advanced equipment to efficiently, hygienically and safely conduct our preservation process while maintaining the standards of the food industry. We are authorised to fulfil any order in bulk along with all the customizations all over the globe.

We are totally aware of the difference high quality ingredients make in this industry. Thus, our operations start from procuring only organically grown products using good farming techniques under the supervision of trained hands. Additionally, our experienced professionals undergo rigorous training sessions on the latest techniques and methods so that we make available only perfectly preserved products in the market. Our team is constantly monitored and guided towards achieving seamless products and services.

Our company proudly ensures that our products retain better flavours and nutrients than other drying methods without adding any harmful chemicals, preservatives and are completely safe for any application in other delicacies.
