About Peculiar Plastic Machinery

Molding machines, oils, and high-quality industrial magnetic separators are all produced by reputable company Peculiar Plastic Machinery. With more than 6 years in the business, we have built a solid name for offering dependable and efficient products for a range of industrial uses. Among others, the automobile, aerospace, maritime, building, and mining sectors all use our goods.

We are dedicated to giving our clients the finest options for meeting their requirements. Our team of skilled engineers and chemists collaborate closely with clients to comprehend their unique requirements and create solutions that are specifically tailored to satisfy those needs.

Even in the most demanding industrial situations, our products are created to deliver outstanding efficiency and security. Extreme circumstances, such as high temperatures, high pressure, large loads, and harsh surroundings, are not a problem for our goods. Our goods are designed to offer exceptional wear protection, corrosion resistance, and oxidation stability and we only use the best basic oils and additives in them.

To enhance the performance and environmental effect of our products, we are continuously investigating and creating new technologies. Our use of environmentally favourable base oils and additives, which lessens the effect of our activities on the environment, reflects our dedication to sustainability.

In everything we do at Peculiar Plastic Machinery, excellence is the cornerstone. We are dedicated to providing our clients with the best goods and services possible. Our factory is accredited, and we test all of our goods to make sure they reach or surpass industry standards. In order to help our clients, optimise their lubrication processes and get the best outcomes, we also provide professional support and training.
